STS recently joined hands with SmartLife, who are committed to enhancing the lives of support staff in the city through educational programmes.

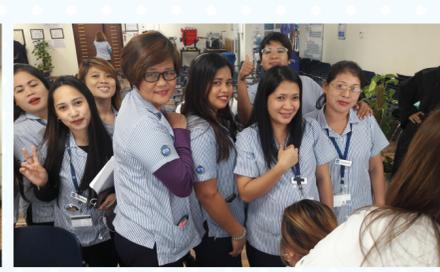

STS joins hands with Pink It Now

STS partnered with Zulekha Hospital as part of Pink It Now. This is a Breast Cancer Awareness campaign from 17th September to 9th November, that intends to inform and impart education on the deadly disease. The event at STS was held on 8th and 9th October where participants received a short talk on symptoms, self-examination and detection of Breast Cancer by a specialist.

The campaign by Zulekha Hospitals aims to shed light on these glaring symptoms and prevent the disease at an early stage. To facilitate the same, they will be providing free specialist consultation and mammograms at their hospitals in Sharjah and Dubai.

Following the talk, our beauty partners indulged the audience and pampered them with some relaxing short beauty treatments that included manicures, pedicures, massages, etc. we are proud to be a part of the initiative and pledge to continue our efforts in the direction of awareness and education to prevent Breast Cancer, eventually reducing the casualties in the world.

STS on Drive Live

“Our drivers are professional seasoned drivers and they’ve received additional driver licensing tests plus ongoing training and defensive road skills so they can focus on the road and traffic around them”.

Steve Burnell, Managing Director

At STS, our priority has always been to provide safe and reliable transportation services. As part of our goal, we have undertaken various campaigns, in partnership with government authorities as well as private institutions.

Our Managing Director Steve Burnell made an appearance on the segment of a popular radio station 103.8 Dubai Eye's show Education Matters. The segment titled 'Drive Live' goes live on a bus after school, talking to children on the way. Steve asserted that it is a fact that bus travel is safer than a private car traveling.
